"I am not inferior to any one, I shall be a leader, I will think big and aim high, I will never give up" On the last leg of her climb, she was shocked when she saw six dead bodies. Poorna said at an interaction with the press she recollected" the Swaeroes, the ten commandments, my parents and Secretary Sir". Poorna was referring to an IPS officer, R.S Praveen Kumar, the brain behind introducing adventure sports along with many other sports into the curriculum in order to build up confidence in socially and economically backward youngsters. "I cannot even describe how difficult the climb was, but I was fixed on fulfilling the dreams of Secretary Sir", Poorna, the daughter of Devidas and Laxmi, both agricultural labourers, said.
