15. Read the following passage and answer the questions.

“You say that your government is inefficient. You say that our laws are too old. You say that municipality does not pick up the garbage. You say that the phones don't work, the railways are a joke. The airline is the worst in the world, mails never reach their destination. You say that our country has gone to the dogs and is the absolute pits. In Singapore you don't throw cigarette butts on the road or eat in the stores. You wouldn't dare to eat in public during Ramadan in Dubai. You would not dare to go out without your head covered in Jeddah. You would not dare to buy an employee of the telephone exchange in London at 10 pounds a month to see your calls are billed to someone else. You would not dare to speed beyond 55 mph in Washington and then tell the traffic cop, "Do you know who i am? I am so and so's son. Take your two bucks and get lost." You wouldn't chuck an empty coconut shell anywhere other than the garbage pail on the beaches in Australia and New Zealand. Why don't you use examination jockeys or buy fake certificates in Boston? You can respect and conform to a foreign system in other countries but cannot in your own. Why can't you be the same here in India?

We go to the polls to choose a government and after that forfeit all responsibility. We sit back waiting to be pampered and expect the government to do everything whilst our contribution is totally negative. We expect the government to clean up but we are not going to stop chucking garbage all over the place nor are we going to stop to pick up a stray piece of paper and throw it in the dustbin. We expect the railways to provide clean bathrooms but we are not going to learn the proper use of bathrooms. We want Indian Airlines and Air India to provide the best of food and toiletries but we are not going to stop pilfering at the least opportunity. This applies even to the staff that is known not to pass on the service to the public. When it comes to burning social issues like women, dowry, girl child and others we make a loud drawing room protestations and continue to do the reverse at home. Our excuse? "It's the whole system which has to change, how will it matter if I alone forego my son's right to the dowry? So who's going to change the system? What does a system consist of? Very conveniently for us it consists of our neighbours, other households, other cities, other communities and the government. But definitely not me and you. When it comes to us actually making a positive contribution to the system we lock ourselves along with our families into a safe cocoon and look into the distance at countries far away and wait for a Mr. Clean to come along and work miracles for us with a majestic sweep of his hand."

Answer the following questions:

- a. What is the passage about?
- b. Name three burning social issues faced by the Indians.
- c. Why do you think Indians respect and conform to the system when they are abroad?
- d. What does "Take your two bucks and get lost", actually mean in this passage?
- e. Write whether the following sentences are "True" or "False" in the brackets.
  1. Indians resort to stealing useful things in the public places. ( )
  2. Every Indian becomes Mr. Clean and is part of the system. ( )
